War Bureau Calls Official To the East

Leslie M. Rudy, for the past 2½ years manager of the Port of Redwood City, was to leave Thursday for the East on port business, at the conclusion of which he will become an expert consultant in the Office of Transportation of the U. S. War Department at Washington, D. C.

At a special meeting of the board of port commissioners on Monday afternoon, Rudy was granted a leave of absence from his local post so that he could take over the federal work, which is expected to be for the duration of the war.

At the same session, the commission appointed A. A. Moran of San Francisco as acting port manager. Although not present at the meeting, Moran had previously been interviewed by the commission.

Black-out restrictions and the need for conserving tires and gasoline has curtailed use of automobiles in Panama.

Threat to Port, South Bay Seen in the 'Reber Plan'

The "Reber Plan" to convert San Francisco Bay into two gigantic fresh water lakes and a salt water basin, scheduled to be considered by bay counties boards of supervisors Friday in San Francisco, has been branded as a threat to development of the Port of Redwood City and all other waterfront projects in San Mateo County, including the maritime schools and yacht harbors slated for Coyote Point.

County Planning Engineer Ronald L. Campbell, who said that the county would be represented at the San Francisco meeting, pointed out that the Reber Plan would block off the south bay behind locks and dams.

Ocean-going ships could reach Redwood City only through locks opposite Berkeley.

Campbell also charged that the plan would bottle up the south bay and eventually make it a mud-filled cesspool.

The San Francisco meeting was called to renew interest in the project of John Reber, San Francisco architect, first indorsed by the San Francisco supervisors in 1939. The cost is estimated at 120 million dollars.

Division of the bay would be accomplished by construction of two four-mile dikes, one 2000 feet wide extending from San Francisco to Oakland just south of the bridge, and the other 600 feet wide reaching from Richmond to Marin County.

Purposes are to create large land areas in the bay to permit direct land communication between San Francisco, Oakland and Marin County. The author believes it would provide additional military and naval airforce facilities. The fresh water lakes would create reservoirs for irrigation.

The Oakland City Council promised to send 11 members to the San Francisco meeting for the sole purpose of sabotaging the plan.

Harold Weber, Oakland Chamber of Commerce secretary, called the plan "cockeyed" and "crazy."

A chamber resolution declared the plan would block off the entire East Bay area, including the U. S. Army port of embarkation, the Oakland naval supply depot, the Alameda naval air station and Mare Island Navy Yard.

Civilian Registration Possible on Tuesdays

Newcomers to Redwood City or others who have not as yet registered for civilian defense may do so on any Tuesday evening between 7 and 9 o'clock, at the city hall. Clement R. Baume, commander of Redwood City Post 105, American Legion, which has aided the registration, said today that one could be registered and fingerprinted at the same time by applying at the city hall on a Tuesday evening. Registration may also be made on any Monday from 9:30 to 3:30 p.m.

MENLO PARK NEWS

MENLO PARK — Because of the scarcity of labor and material, work on the proposed new depot at Menlo Park has been indefinitely postponed.

On Sunday the baseball season starts at Palo Alto with a game between the local nine and a team from San Francisco. The Palo Alto diamond is one of the finest on the Peninsula. During the Summer big crowds witness these contests.

★ ★ ★

It is generally conceded that there will be no changes in the city government under the new administration. All departments are functioning satisfactorily and there is no need for a change. However, to the victor belong the spoils.

★ ★ ★

James Graham, the well-known San Francisco attorney, has leased a home in Stanford Park and has moved down with his family. There are only a few houses left for rent in the vicinity.

★ ★ ★

The new city council Tuesday night organized by electing Charles Oram chairman. He secured the highest vote at the recent election. The meeting accomplished very little as the greater portion of the time was taken up in wrangling and arguing. It was a bad beginning for the new board and does not augur well for a successful administration. These are strenuous times that call for unity, progress and teamwork by those in office. The taxpayers demand this and must get it.

Lovers of strawberry shortcake are likely to miss their favorite desert this season as there is a scarcity of people to harvest the big berry crop. Many Japanese farmers here are in resettlement camps for the duration. Squat labor is difficult to get. No doubt the price of the fruit will be high.

The wild pigeons that have been here in large numbers have left for their home in the hills of Idaho and Montana, where they will nest and raise their young. The birds will be here again when Winter comes.

Tin Can Matinee At Local Theater Set Saturday

Youngsters: Save your tin to get in, for tomorrow morning, the Sequoia Theater will present its "slap the Jap" matinee.

Manager Hal Honore' announced today that he had planned a feature picture, four cartoons, organ music and other specialties for the 10 a.m. matinee next Saturday at which admission will be three or more tin cans processed for the "Salvage for Victory" drive. The cans must have both ends removed, paper labels taken off, be clean and pressed flat.

On the bill will be the film "The Under-Pup," featuring Gloria Jean, Robert Cummings and Nan Grey.

Unexpected End Comes To Deadlock

Harold F. Anderson will continue to serve as mayor of Redwood City.

This was unanimously voted by the city council Monday night at a 1¼-hour reorganization meeting which followed a caucus session at which Anderson agreed to continue in the post which he had filled for the past two years.

ANDERSON

Anderson, who had expressed intention of retiring from the honorary position, consented to continue serving only after the council, with but six members active, could not even reach a majority decision on a successor, much less a unanimous one.

It was the first time in 14 years that a Redwood City mayor had been re-elected. Henry A. Beeger, who had served from 1924 to 1928, was re-elected in that year and served another two year term, ending his mayoralty in 1930.

The action following the counting of 13 absentee ballots and the canvass of the vote. In the absentee ballots, Anderson received 10 votes; Louis C. Christensen, 7; Fletcher, 6; Carl (Ike) Britschgi, 6; George L. Solari, 4; Ratliff, 2.

OFFICIAL VOTE GIVEN

The final and official vote thus became:

ANDERSON	1823
BRITSCHGI	1385
FLETCHER	1026
CHRISTENSEN	1011
SOLARI	792
RATLIFF	533

Total vote cast was 2371 — slightly over 35 per cent of the registered 6695.

On Friday, May 1, there will be another program in the auditorium starting at 1 p.m.

Lincoln School will have open house on Wednesday, Apr. 29, starting at 7:30 p.m. No formal program has been arranged. On Friday, May 1, the school will hold its annual May Day fete.

Garfield School will have demonstrations and displays of the work of the primary grades on Tuesday, Apr. 28, starting at 9:30 a.m. On Wednesday, Apr. 29, there will be a similar exhibit of work of grades 4, 5 and 6.

Central School will have open house and a program on Thursday, Apr. 30, starting at 1:15 p.m.

Washington School will have a program and special open house on Friday, May 1, starting at 1:15, and John Gill School will also have open house and a program on the same day at the same time.

Barrett Re-elected

BELMONT—Louis A. Barrett was re-named mayor of Belmont at Tuesday's special city council meeting for the canvassing of ballots. Others who were elected in last Tuesday's polling, were Alexander Morrison, councilman; Mrs. Katherine Heartsner, clerk; and A. T. Hasbrouck, treasurer.

Two absentee ballots were read, having been cast for the election winners.

Only other business was discussion of plans for improving the parking space at the Southern Pacific station in Belmont.

Poole, Beer Both To Seek Tax Position

"I have decided to throw my hat in the ring for county tax collector."

This announcement, made without preliminaries at the end of a meeting of the board of supervisors on Tuesday, came from Board Chairman Fred E. Beer.

Supervisor John W. Poole, also mentioned as a potential candidate for the office, was standing nearby.

"What are you going to do, John?" asked newsmen.

"The same thing," he replied.

Thus in 30 seconds the county had its first two candidates for the $4000 position now held by Ambrose McSweeney of South San Francisco, dean of county office holders.

Beer was elected to the board of supervisors in 1934, and, failing to file a bond within the required time, was appointed to fill his own vacancy but had to run again in 1936. Two years ago he succeeded Hugh H. Smith as chairman of the board. He served a term as president of the California Mission Trails Association, and was recently named chairman of the Peninsula group of counties of a nine-county regional planning committee.

Poole was appointed to the board of supervisors in 1927 by Gov. C. C. Young to succeed the late John McBain. He was elected to office the following year and has been undefeated since. He has served 28 years on the Redwood City school board. His present term on the county board has two years to run.

Beer's announcement eliminates him for re-election as supervisor from the second (San Mateo) township. Only other supervisorial office to be filled by election is that held by Supervisor E. R. McDonald of Burlingame.

Lack of Preparation Blamed For Britain's Eastern Losses

Lack of preparation was the reason for British losses in Hongkong, Malaya and Singapore, according to Art Garcie of San Francisco, recently from the Orient, in a talk before the Kiwanis Club yesterday noon.

Gracie, who was introduced by Roscoe D. Wyatt, was born of American parents in Wuhu and lived in China until he was 17. He received his college education in California, and then returned to Shanghai as representative of an American business. He left there after its capture by the Japanese, going to Manila, and from there worked in Penang and Singapore, leaving the last city just before its fall. His wife and two-month-old baby were evacuated by an American freighter when the Japs began to bomb Singapore.

The speaker termed the 1937 Shanghai incident as a "comic opera war," but pointed out that it led to the present crisis, since the Chinese boycott of Japanese goods afterwards became so serious that it forced the Nipponese to face a severe economic crisis unless retail outlets throughout the Orient could be re-established.

"Chinese stores in the Philippines, Malaya and Dutch East Indies formerly stocked their shelves with Japanese-made merchandise," Gracie said, "but soon after the boycott was started it became almost impossible to find Jap goods in those countries."

The Bataan Peninsula offered little real protection for defense, Gracie declared, especially when the enemy had air superiority. He told of British airfields throughout the Malay Peninsula but with no planes stationed at them except a few "Brewster Buffaloes." These were slow and poorly armed, and no match for the Japanese aircraft, he said.

The fall of Singapore was expected when the Japs found such easy going down Malaya, and particularly after the two huge British warships, the Prince of Wales and the Repulse, were sunk, the speaker reported. When he left he was shipped to Australia and was surprised to find many American officers and soldiers already there. He predicted that Australia would be the base for Allied action against the Japs, but said that in his opinion it would be silly to attempt a recapture of Singapore, since it was not at all vital.

"The Dutch East Indies are the important bases to regain," he declared, "for they not only have rubber and tin, but also oil, of which Malaysia has none."

Gracie doubted that the "scorched earth" policy had been effective in Malaya, due to native indifference as to whom controlled the territory and reluctance to destroy their means of livelihood.

"When we start back, however, the Japs will not hesitate to destroy totally every rubber tree, and it will take us many years to rebuild what lack of foresight on the part of British officialdom lost," he declared.

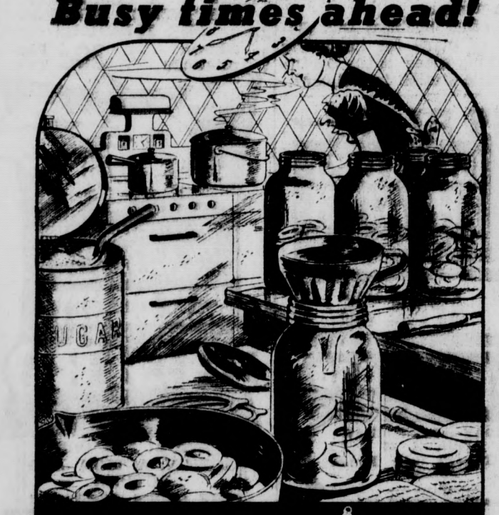

The United States is tremendously popular in Australia and the South Pacific, and after the war American industry will be the dominant factor in reconstruction of a peaceful, prosperous economic development, Gracie predicted.

Francis D. Wyatt, son of Chairman Wyatt and a friend of Gracie, whom he knew in the Philippines, was a guest at the meeting.

Resigned Diplomat Wed to Peninsulan

Baron James Baeyens, who resigned yesterday as first secretary of the French Embassy at Washington in protest against Pierre Laval, is the husband of the former Mary Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tobin Clark of San Mateo. They were married 12 years ago in Paris and have visited the Peninsula frequently. The baroness is the granddaughter of the late Sen. William A. Clark of Montana and of the late Mr. and Mrs. Richard Tobin of San Francisco.

2. Registration should be made at the designated registration in places of the local board area which the registrant has his permanent home, or in which he may happen to be between 7 a.m. and 9 p.m. during the registration period.

3. Registrants must answer all questions asked by the registrar for notation on the registration card. It is important that the registrant describe his place of residence in detail as well as give full particulars as to the address at which he will be sure to receive mail or other communications.

REDWOOD CITY TELEPHONE 1300

Tickts Now on Sale for Woman's Red Cross Benefit Concert Saturday Night

Tickets may be secured at any time at the Redwood City Woman's Club on Clinton St. or from any club member for Saturday night's concert by Reah Sadowski, pianist, and Lawrence Strauss, tenor, who will be presented in recital by the club at McKinley School Auditorium, Redwood City.

Entire price of the tickets—55 cents—will go to the war fund of the Red Cross except for the 5 cents federal tax. The Wofan's Club is bearing all costs of the concert.

Both Miss Sadowski and Strauss have won wide acclaim for their achievements.

Miss Sadowski, a native of Canada, received her earliest training in San Francisco. A scholarship took her to the Curtis Institute in Philadelphia and another to Juilliard in New York to study with Josef Lhevinne. While there she also studied with Alberto Jonas. Most recently Milan Blanchet, French pedagogue, pupil of Brahms and Debussy, has been her teacher.

Miss Sadowski's first public appearance was at six, and since then she has played with leading orchestras here and abroad. In England she played for the British Broadcasting Co. and in New York and Austria with the Roth Quartet.

In London Ernest Newman said of her: "Miss Sadowski can obviously do anything at the piano—difficulties do not exist for her; her power is astounding." Alphonse Onnou, first violinist of the Pro Arte Quartet, said, "She is elevated to the ranks of the most remarkable pianists of our time."

Miss Sadowski is also a composer, and has had composers write especially for her. Alec Rowley, well-known British composer, has written a concerto for her and the Spaniard, De Osma, several piano pieces which are now part of her repertoire.

Another Red Cross Benefit Program Set Here for May 23

Tickets are now being sold by pupils of the sponsoring studios for a Red Cross benefit entertainment to be presented in Sequoia High School Auditorium Saturday night, May 23, by the Dorothy Roberts Dance Studio of Redwood City and the National Institute of Music, Palo Alto.

Admission to the program, which will include music, singing and dancing by a number of children, will be 25 cents for adults and 11 cents for children, including tax, with all proceeds except for the tax going to the war fund of the Red Cross.

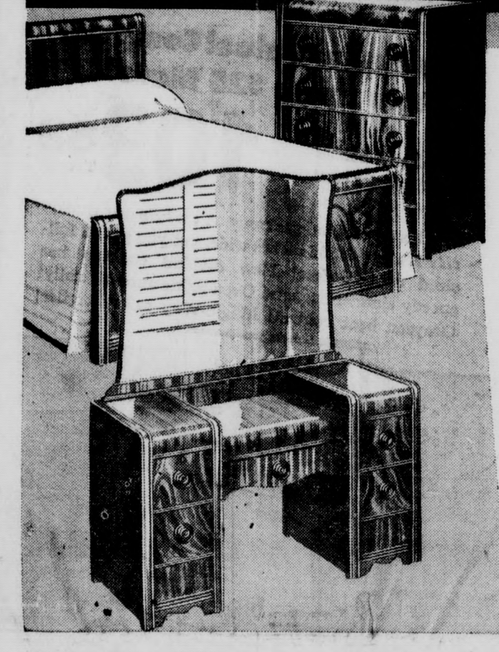

The extract from the quebracho tree is used in tanning hides and skins.

Red Cross Spurs Drive for Blood Donors; Mobile Unit Due Here Monday, May 4

Redwood City Chapter, American Red Cross, is spurring its drive for volunteer blood donors. Churches, lodges and service clubs are being contacted in an effort to secure registrations.

The mobile equipment and staff of the blood procurement center will be in Redwood City all day Monday, May 4. Advance registration is necessary so that donors may be informed as to the time for their appointment. This blood will be converted into plasma for use in the event of civilian disaster and for the army and navy.

Anyone in good health—male or female—between the ages of 21 and 60 can aid in this vital project. Persons 18 to 21 are acceptable provided they submit written consent of parent or guardian.

While plasma, for transfusion purposes, does not need to be typed, arrangements have been made to type each donor's blood and inform him of the classification. The Red Cross does not charge for this service.

One may register as a volunteer donor, in person or by telephone, at any of the following places: Redwood City, Broadway and Jefferson (Redwood City 118). Menlo Park, 1060 Laurel St. (Palo Alto 2-5251). Woodside at the Red Cross headquarters (Woodside 252).

The junior chamber of commerce is sponsoring the campaign nationally and locally. The Red Cross wants no donations in this campaign except blood. "Give yours to save a life" is its motto.

Exchange To Handle Bond Booth Saturday

Exchange Club members will operate the downtown war savings stamp and bond booth on Broadway near California St. this coming Saturday, as the result of acceptance by the club Tuesday of the Redwood City War Savings Committee's invitation to handle it. Other clubs have operated the booth on Saturday afternoons.

The program presented that evening, with Ronald L. Campbell as chairman, consisted of the showing of a health picture and a first aid film by William Mills of the Zurich Insurance Co. on behalf of Evans A. Fletcher, local agent, who attended. Other guests were W. J. McKeegan of the American Eagle Fire Insurance Co. and Stuart W. Copps, assistant superintendent of the S. H. Frank & Co. tannery, both of Redwood City.

Standards of living in Australia are high, being comparable to those enjoyed in the United States, according to the Department of Commerce.

REDWOOD CITY TELEPHONE 1300

Bel Canto To Give Concert May 17 in San Francisco

For its fourth public concert, Redwood City's Bel Canto Chorus is planning something different which it hopes will prove not only pleasing to Redwood City but will do this community good from the standpoint of favorable publicity. This is the presentation of a concert in San Francisco.

The chorus, which was organized in the Fall of 1938 and has given a concert each Spring since, will present its coming concert on Sunday, May 17, in Scottish Rite Auditorium, Sutter St. and Van Ness Ave., at 2:30 p.m. In the past its concerts have been given in Redwood City, although it has sung on special programs at San Mateo, Stanford, and at Treasure Island, where it placed second in the Eisteddfod competition.

Decision to give the concert in San Francisco came because of suggestions and requests of a number of people in that city who always have attended the concerts here. Between 50 and 100 San Franciscans have attended each concert of the chorus, members said.

Eugene Fulton, director of the chorus, is also director of the Loring Club in San Francisco and teaches there. He has a large following among San Francisco music lovers.

For the concert, Mrs. Clarissa Bray of Redwood City, regular accompanist, will play.

"The chorus hopes that Redwood City people will be as generous in attending the concert given in San Francisco as San Franciscans have been in attending concerts given in this city," said an announcement by Bel Canto.

It was pointed out that Scottish Rite Auditorium has excellent acoustics, so will be an ideal setting for the concert, and that with the affair being held in the afternoon, people can attend without fear of being caught in a nighttime blackout.

6000 Cans Monthly Given by Hospital

Full co-operation of the Veterans' Base Hospital at North Palo Alto has resulted in the release of 6000 big tin cans a month to the San Mateo County-Salvage-for-Victory Committee.

"Six thousand cans every month—72,000 in a year—this is the biggest single army yet to enlist in our fight against the Seventh Column in San Mateo County," said Theodore M. Lilienthal, salvage for victory chairman, today.

"Everybody knows about the Fifth Column of secret enemies that has wrecked so many countries. Day by day we're learning to cope with Sixth Columnists—the defeatists, rumor mongers, can't-be-doners in our midst. But nobody, not even its members, knows the damage the Seventh Column is causing.

"This force that's aiding the enemy every day is made up of most of us—good, patriotic Americans—but people who have enjoyed so much so long that we haven't brought ourselves to save all the vital war materials we must."

Lilienthal pointed out that while every tin can saved is equal to five bullets for our soldiers; every can wasted, in effect, puts these bullets in the hands of the Japs and Nazis.

New Beach Parcel Bought for County

The county supervisors Tuesday purchased the third unit of the Peninsula Beach property at Coyote Point for $4500, thereby acquiring title to the 10-acre parcel sought by the California Maritime School for a new site. The unit, one of 10 being purchased at the rate of one a year from the Howard Estate, comprised 168 acres, including some tideland.

Board Chairman Fred E. Beer declared that no one has approached the supervisors on the state proposition.

The supervisors received $600 from Dumbarton Bridge Co. and $6571.47 from Pacific Gas and Electric Co. in franchise taxes.

Members of the board and Sheriff James J. McGrath were authorized to attend a meeting in Sacramento Friday to confer on Governor Olson's plans for raising an unorganized militia of riflemen prepared to combat fifth columnists and to repel invasion.

J-M All-Out for the Duration

J-M's new war production drive for the duration has started.

The 15,000 members of the J-M organization are pledging their efforts to help our country win the war and to assist with any plan that will increase war production.

J-Mers are signing a pledge, a volunteers' honor roll of J-M men and women who are determined to do everything possible to back up our boys at the front. These pledges are being posted prominently in all J-M plant, office and mine locations and serve as a reminder of the tremendous job ahead if J-Mers are to do their share to bring about a speedy victory.

Here is the text of J-M's war pledge:

WE PLEDGE

As Free Men And Women Of America, And As Members of the Johns-Manville Organization, that

WE WILL devote our efforts, our time, our thinking, our money and our lives, if need be, to winning the war.

WE WILL do everything in our power to help increase the flow of war goods so vital to our fighting countrymen and to our allies.

WE WILL be constantly alert to prevent fifth-columnists from sabotaging our plants, mines and offices or injuring our fellow workers.

WE WILL lend neither aid nor comfort to the enemy through careless work or loose conversation.

WE WILL help in every other way possible, in our work and in our daily lives, to bring about victory over those who would take away our freedom and who would enslave us as they have enslaved millions of others in nations which produced too little and too late.

Production Drive Committees Named

Johns-Manville's new war production drive for the duration has been launched at all of J-M's plant, office and mine locations in the United States.

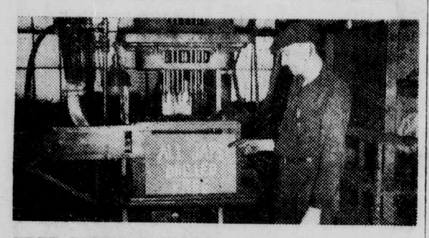

By general agreement with employees and management, central committees representing these two groups have been chosen to handle the drive at each J-M location. Each central committee is being assisted by additional committees whose members will follow through with the details of the drive.

The drive was launched following a pledge of full cooperation with the nation's effort to further increase production for war by J-M's president Lewis. H. Brown, to Donald M. Nelson, War Production Board chairman.

At present more than 70 percent of J-M's production is going directly and indirectly to the Army, the Navy and every major industry in the country which is manufacturing war products.

J-M employees are being urged to submit proposals for increased production to their central committees. In view of shortages in materials and equipment, proposals favored are those which will increase production without the use of additional equipment or which will not involve time-consuming changes of existing facilities. Such changes, it was explained, would delay rather than increase vitally needed war production.

J-M FAMILY ALBUM

FREE OFFER FOR JAPS—W. A. Kruckenberg of the brake block department at J-M's Waukegan, Ill., plant, has a standing offer for the Japs. The offer is shown above on the drill which he operates. It reads: "All Japs Drilled Free."

Quicker Ships

Electric welding is saving thousands of manhours in building the ships needed so desperately for the war. Part of this new method of ship construction is asbestos paper to protect parts outside the welding area. Several items of asbestos clothing are also necessary for the welders.

This is just another way in which asbestos is helping the United States build to win.

Weekend Registration

Only Nine Questions To Be Asked Men 45 to 65

Only nine simple questions will be asked those men beyond the military ages who register this weekend for classification as to their skills and aptitudes for war production activities, Brig. Gen. Joseph O. Donovan, state director of selective service for California, emphasized today.

Every male citizen of the United States, other than persons specifically exempted by law, born on or after Apr. 28, 1877, and on or before Feb. 16, 1897, who have not heretofore been registered under the act, must register.

Registration of the individual should require a comparatively short time, General Donovan said, pointing out that the registrant will not be asked to fill out a questionnaire but must answer only interrogations about his identity, his place of residence, and his mailing address. Also he will be required to list his telephone, if any; his age in years and date of birth, place of birth, the name and address of the person who will always know his address, his employer's name and address, and his place of employment or business.

General Donovan pointed out that those who register are not liable for military service under the selective training and Service Act of 1940, as amended. They will be required later to fill out an occupational questionnaire concerning their civilian qualifications and skills, but that is for the purpose of obtaining information only.

After a registrant has answered all questions and signed his name to the registration card, he will be given a registration certificate signed by the registrar. This certificate must be in the personal possession of the registrant at all times, General Donovan warned. Failure to possess the certificate, or to show it to authorized persons, constitutes a violation of Selective Service Regulations and is considered prima facie evidence of failure to register, General Donovan said.

The Redwood City board's registration offices will be set up at the following places:

Selective Service Headquarters, 525 Marshall St.

Central School on Broadway at Middlefield Rd.

Washington School on Woodside Rd.

Lincoln School on Whipple Ave.

Garfield School on Old Middlefield Rd.

San Carlos City Hall.

Belmont City Hall.
